Rusty Hammer

NOTE: Rusty Hammer was elected to the Campbell City Council in April. At that time, he was the youngest councilman in northern California and of course, the youngest in Campbell. Rusty's "out on a limb" this week as far as his job on the council is concerned.

NOW THAT ALL OF THE excitement of the elections has settled I would like to take this opportunity to make some observations about our city and where we are going.

During my travels up and down the streets of Campbell, the message from the people was very clear.

"We want Rincon Park and our new library."

In regards to Rincon Park, I am pleased to report that the City Council has budgeted $150,000 for construction this year.

Although this will in no way complete the park, we will be well on our way to developing it.

On the library, the issue becomes clouded.

At the very least, it seems that construction is one year away.

It will be longer unless the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors approves a tax increase for the library district. If the county is not able to justify an increase, we may need to study alternate means of financing the library.

We will be working on street improvements on Hamilton, Rincon, Dell and Virginia avenues.

The city will establish its own dispatching service for police, fire and department of public works, as well as moving the Engineering Department to offices in City Hall.

THIS YEAR LOOKS TO be an exciting one if the people choose to be concerned. We have just interviewed people to serve on the newly-created Civic Improvement Commission.

This will be a commission which will work in areas not already covered by the Planning, Youth and Parks & Recreation commissions.

The Planning Commission will be making recommendations to the City Council on changes to the General Plan.

This proves to be a most important item since many of our people are outspoken in regards to high and low density.

There have been indications that point to the formation of a Goals Committee to study and make recommendations concerning where we are heading and how we plan to get there.

All of these projects prove to be exciting, but we cannot act alone.

We need the involvement of all segments of our community if there is to be any meaning in our goals and plans. We are fortunate here in Campbell that we have organizations that are active and involved to make Campbell a better place in which to live.

THE CHAMBER OF COMmerce was involved with the Planning Commission in the formation of a Bascom Avenue development policy.

The Campbell JayCees have volunteered their services to help build a portion of Rincon Park.

The West Valley Progressive Seniors are active, providing needed services for senior citizens in Campbell.

Our Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist and Lions clubs are performing community service projects constantly.

We need more people, now, to become involved and concerned about our city. We

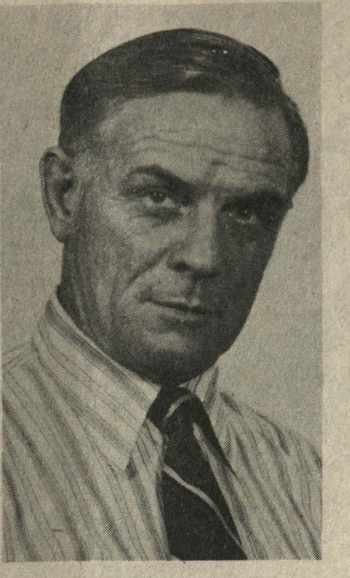
TWO PLANNING COMMISSIONERS REAPPOINTED

Borden appointed fire chief

GENE BORDEN
---new fire chief



MYRON ALEXANDER
---four year term

ROBERT STEWART
---reappointed

Eugene "Gene" Borden, 46, fire marshal for the City of Campbell for the past 11 years, was appointed fire chief by the Campbell City Council at their Monday night meeting.

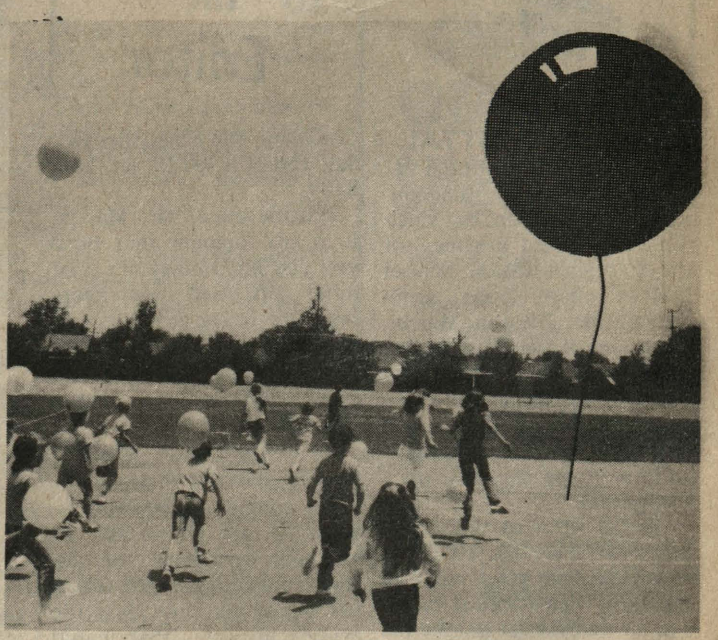
Borden's appointment was no surprise as he has been serving as acting fire chief since the retirement of George Maxwell in April, and had been a front runner for Maxwell's successor.

Also appointed by the Council were two planning commissioners, Myron Alexander and Robert Stewart. Both had been serving on the commission filling out unexpired terms of two previous planning commissioners. The new appointments are for four years.

And still a third set of appointments were made, these to the newly created Civic Improvement Commission. Appointed were Mrs. Daniel Campos, William L. Dok, Mrs. Phyllis B. Hofer, Glen C. Norstrom, Jr., Mrs. Jane Peterson, Joel S. Stock and Mrs. Jeanette Watson.

The appointment of Borden came after the council had considered setting pay increases for management personnel and had retired into a caucus to determine the salary of City Manager Robert Stephens. Stephens, in presenting his salary recommendations, omitted, as he said had been his practice, recommending his own wage. He also did not recommend the fire chief's salary until he announced his recommendation of Borden for the post.

Stephens' salary was set by the council at $26,904 per year, an increase of $1,284. The fire chief's salary was set at $20,160, the same as that of the police chief.



UP, UP AND AWAY---My beauti--ful ball--oon. Youngsters attending recreation at Castlemont School had a "fly-away" last week to herald the beginning of summer. Unfortunately, the wind wasn't quite right and many of the helium-filled orbs didn't get much farther than a neighboring yard. Others soared off into the wild-blue and hopefully will bring a prize for one of the youngsters. Postcards were attached to the balloons with a request they be mailed back. The youngster whose postcard is returned from the farthest distance before the end of the recreation season (August 4) will receive a prize.

471 UNITS ON AGENDA

Commission faces multi-unit approvals

Campbell's planning commission will have an agenda devoted in large part to approval of apartment complexes when they convene at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

Architectural approval for the Bethel Church's proposed 130 unit complex at 601 El Patio is scheduled, as well as Lincoln Properties' 264-unit apartments at 265 and 275 Union Avenue.

A third apartment development seeking architectural approval is that of Byrnes and Errico for [illegible] units at 481 and 501 Hacienda.

A sign change for Bonanza Home Centers has been referred to the commission by the planning staff. Bonanza has recently changed their name to Angeles. Commissioners at their last meeting asked to have the applicant appear in person.

Two public hearings are slated. One is a zone change initiated by the commission for property fronting on Apricot Avenue just off Bascom Avenue, presently in use as a swim club. The commission is proposing that the property be changed from C-2-S to R-M or R-1.

The second hearing is for a bridal service operation at 880 E. Campbell Avenue by Vinod K. Kamboj, who wishes to convert an existing residence in a planned development zone to commercial use.

At their meeting on July 5, the commissioners denied an application by Fred Sahadi for a PruneYard identification sign which would be visible from Highway 17. Council policy is that signs should not be erected which are to be viewed primarily from the creek area or freeway.

Sahadi proposed a 58-foot high sign located at the northwest corner of the PruneYard. Sahadi's application is expected to be discussed at the next city council meeting.

Also at the meeting the planners gave architectural approval to an application of Alfred F. Davis for a 16-unit apartment complex at 1335 W. Campbell Avenue, but denied a zone change for a neighboring property at 1409 W. Campbell Avenue. The property, owned by Dorothy Morante is presently zoned R-2-S and R-3-S and was proposed for a change to C-2-S.

Consultant to determine insurance specs

A consultant will help the city council determine specifications and the awarding of insurance for the City of Campbell.

That was the decision of the council Monday night after they heard a short presentation by Thomas B. Kennedy Insurance Agency of San Jose.

Kennedy indicated that he had served the City of Milpitas and the county in this capacity and would work for Campbell in supervising the rebidding of the insurance program.

The council, at a recent meeting, had been unable to come to agreement regarding the insurance policies because of conflicting statements regarding the actual coverage which the city would get.

Kennedy indicated that he would reduce the specifications in some areas, since state law already covered some of the requirements and they were not needed in the specifications. He proposed to work for the city on an hourly basis and guaranteed that any errors on his part would be corrected at no charge.

The council also closed the door to further commercial development on the north side of E. Campbell Avenue by reducing a previously zoned commercial parcel to multiple residential use.

No argument ensued when the council took action on a parcel, now developed with a duplex, at 1044 and 1046 Fewtrell Avenue, but a parcel owned by Annie Tock, at 1035, 39, 49 and 59, Campbell Ave. brought to the microphone Attorney John Chargin, representing the owner and Maurice Martin, representing a parcel on the south side of the street, owned by his family.

The Tock parcel remains after a savings and loan company bought a portion of the property fronting on Bascom Avenue and arguments at the council and commission level both were that the remaining land could no longer be developed as being oriented toward Bascom Avenue. Currently a residence and a triplex are standing on the property.

Chargin protested that the Tock property had been singled out by the city and that Mrs. Tock's equity was

Pair play ping pong, pull prolonged perseverance prize

by Tony Dirksen

A case of ping pong undiplomacy brought the world marathon table tennis record to Campbell last week.

Two Campbell High School students played ping pong for 50 hours and one minute to shatter the 40-hour record of two students from Leigh High School.

"We want to break Leigh's record," explained Dave Blake, 17, one of the two persevering players. Tim Town, also 17, challenged Dave in the unbroken contest.

It began at noon Thursday, July 6, with Tim defeating Dave in an 11-point game.

It ended at 2:01 on Saturday afternoon, more than 500 games later, with Tim concluding "Sure, it was worth it."

The match was held at Tim's 717 Buddlawn residence. Two managers remained with the players throughout the marathon, Mike Ray and Paul Shimizu.

At 26 hours, neither player admitted to being tired. Neither player had drunk any coffee or taken any other type of stimulant. "It's the legs that really start to hurt," said Dave, as he reached for another shot at the ball.

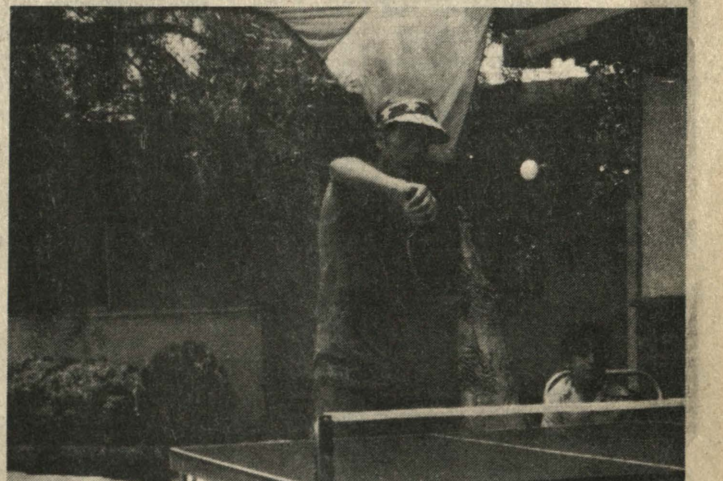
HALF-WAY THROUGH---Tim Town (left) and Dave Blake (right) are still going strong half-way through their 50-hour ping pong marathon. The boys played 500 games and one long game in the unbroken competition.



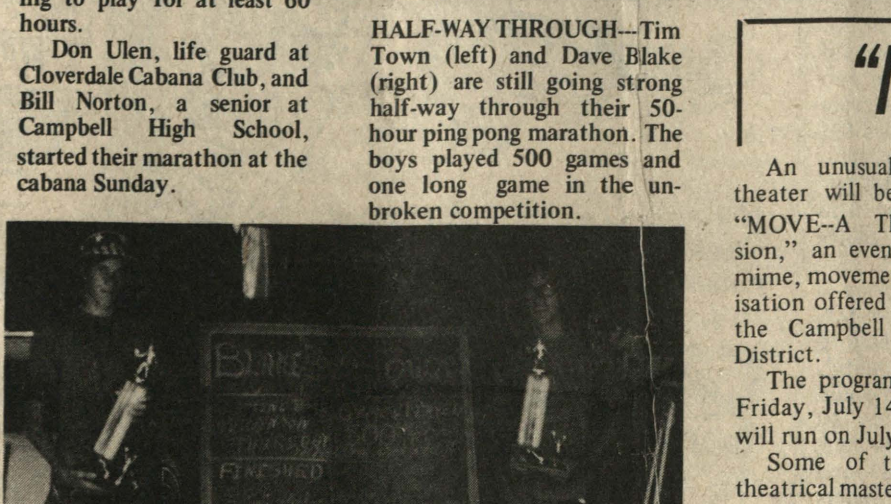
LONG GAME---Dave Blake returns the little white ball one more time. Tim slept till noon every day before the match, Dave made no such preparations. When this picture was taken at 26 hours, Dave said he was not tired.

PING PONG FEVER

Looks like the Campbell teens have got it bad!

Following the record breaking game by two Campbell boys last Saturday, two other young men, determined to break that record, launched another game vowing to play for at least 60 hours.

Don Ulen, life guard at Cloverdale Cabana Club, and Bill Norton, a senior at Campbell High School, started their marathon at the cabana Sunday.



TROPHIES---Dave and Tom holding trophies given to them by neighbors in recognition of their accomplishment. The trophies were inscribed: "World Champs, July 1972, Dave and Tom."

"Move" theater opens for two-week show

An unusual program of theater will be presented in "MOVE--A Theater Explosion," an evening of drama, mime, movement and improvisation offered by students of the Campbell High School District.

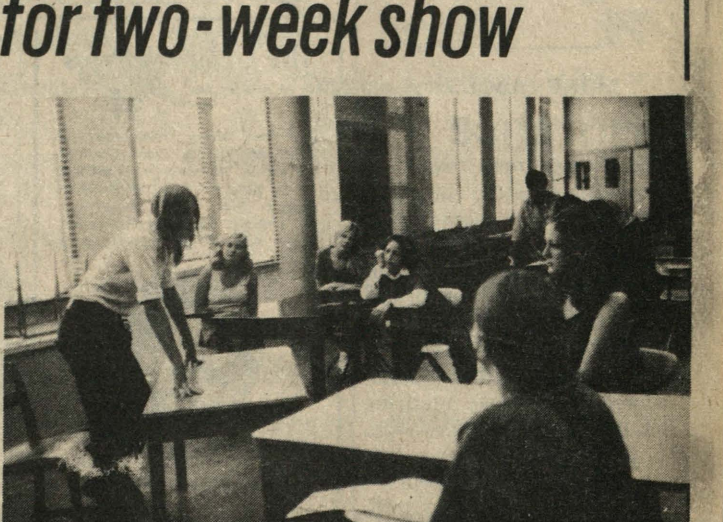
The program will open on Friday, July 14 at 8 p.m. and will run on July 15, 21 & 22.

Some of the pieces are theatrical masterpieces, others are the inventions and creations of students.

The program is directed by George Akina, a graduate of Campbell High School now attending University of the Pacific.

"Chamber Music," a one-act play by Arthur Kopit directed by Ricci Mann of the University of California at Santa Barbara, is featured among the works of the evening. Also offered are "Come and Go," a dramaticule by Samuel Beckett, "On a Darkening Plain," by John Casserley of New Zealand, and "Old Folks", a mime by Kathy Dillon.

MOVE is entirely staged, costumed, built and performed by students. It will be performed in the Campbell High School cafeteria "Little Theatre" on the corner of Campbell and Winchester Avenues in Campbell. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.



STUDENT THEATER---Students critique each other in their production MOVE, a theatrical experience featuring dance, drama and improvisation.

Letters to the Editor

LETTER REBUTTAL

I had hoped to not get involved in a letter writing contest on this election, but since the duly elected members of the Campbell Union School District have once again chosen Mr. Gordon Martin, Treasurer of the West Valley Federation of teachers, for the quarterbacking duties to carry the ball for them I feel compelled to try and straighten this young man out on a few points.

In his letter to this newspaper on June 14, 1972, he seems to take great pains in trying to blame almost everyone in this district for the defeat of the tax increase election on February 29, 1972, including the school district, as having misplaced priorities; the Chamber of Commerce as being all puckered up over the necessary dismissal of Neal Royer, which in his opinion, was not catering to the needs of the community.

This comment is certainly a matter of opinion in my own opinion and certainly in the minds of many many voters in this school district, whom I have contacted and talked to.

We think Neal was demoted primarily because he refused to be pushed around by Mr. Martin, and Mr. Herb Wadley rather than run the school district as it should be run and this is something that should be corrected and furthermore, it is our firm opinion that this school district would be much better off if both Mr. Martin and Herb Wadley would go fishing or someplace else when the school board meets to conduct their business meetings, and let the School Board and Mr. D'Avis, the present superintendent, run the district for the benefit of children in school, rather than have the representatives of these two teacher organizations continually bouncing up and trying to dictate policy to them.

Furthermore, Mr. Martin, I personally take very strong exceptions to the remarks you made in paragraph four, section two, where you stated - and I quote, "the opposition of United Taxpayers operating covertly for the most part masquerading as "senior citizens" or "retired". Gordon, I take these remarks to be aimed directly at myself since I wrote and signed the ballot argument against the February 29 election, and signed it senior citizen.

I would like you to get one thing perfectly clear, young man, and that is that I am not now and have never been a member of the, in my opinion, very excellent United Taxpayers, Inc. organization, and neither has Mr. Burnett, who together with me signed the ballot argument against the tax election to be held on July 25.

The foregoing information may be confirmed by contacting the president of the United Taxpayers, Inc., Mr. Charles C. Ripley, 958 Kingfisher Dr., San Jose, CA 95125, tel. 266-8459.

Furthermore, Mr. Martin, it is my opinion that both you and Mr. Wadley are a lot more concerned about keeping your union members employed than you are about what happens to the children in this school district, despite the fact that we have about one thousand less students than we did four years ago.

In conclusion, Mr. Martin, most, if not all, of the 47 teachers earmarked for dismissal are young or new teachers and should they leave the school district - that would not be such a terrible calamity as there is an over abundance of teachers should the district need any new teachers in the future.

So, once again, I say to you that the upcoming election on July 25 is a matter that should be decided between the taxpayers of this school district and the duly elected School Board, and that we do not need any advice from you or anyone else from either teacher organizations to tell us how to vote -- AMEN!!

vided encouragement for the two players throughout their play, bringing them a trophy for their performance at the 48th hour.

After the 50 hours, Tim and Dave retreated to their beds to enjoy 16 hours of sleep apiece.

It might be that Campbell will go ping pong crazy in the next couple of weeks. Tim has heard that two other Campbell High students are planning to go for 60 hours, and that a local food establishment may sponsor two other marathon players. Tim, however, plans to remain the champion: "If they break our record, then we will break it again."

need your ideas and your efforts to help build a better city. It seems that we have turned the corner and will be having adequate revenue to do some good things for Campbell.

WHEN I CAMPAIGNED for Campbell City Council, I was warned of the time that I would have to spend on the job.

I first thought that people were trying to scare me, but now I see that they were right.

Councilmen attend an average of three meetings in any given week.

We receive pounds of mail and reading material to bone up on the issues.

But it all works out...in time.

Mayor Bill Podgorsek has some urge to keep us in session past midnight. He can bang out a Redevelopment Agency Meeting in one minute but our Council meetings seem to adjourn in the morning.

Take, for example, the recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Economic and Social Opportunities (ESO) Inc. That one convened at 7:30 p.m. and adjourned at 2 a.m. I think that the Board was so tired of listening to the Campbell people that they passed our motions just to get rid of us.

FOR THE PAST MONTH and a half, the Chamber of Commerce has operated the Campbell Youth Employment Service (YES) under the directorship of Chris Young. Chris has worked hard and already found jobs for more people than last year. But that is not enough.

The city is doing its part by hiring young people to work as secretaries, etc.

Now the community can do its part. Do you need some work done around your business or home? The YES will screen the applicants for you and the service is FREE. If you can help, call Chris at 378-1666.

I HAVE HAD THE OPportunity to make many appearances before organizations to talk about youth involvement in politics and government. I suppose that the most interesting was at a seminar entitled "New Interest Groups". I was there to speak for the young.

My message was that the youth group is not a new pressure group. All generations of young people work to correct problems. My theme was that what is different now is the response of the people toward the young.

It is reflected mainly in the lower voting age, and specifically that confidence that the voters of Campbell had in me when they chose me to help run their government for the next four years.

I concluded there and will conclude here by saying that good things will happen only in the spirit of cooperation and joint involvement by all people to make the city, state, and nation a better place in which to live.

We have that spirit here in Campbell. Let's keep it and move on from here.

Cambrian cuts jobs & bonuses

The Cambrian District Trustees cut positions, military bonuses and the sixth grade Spanish program in a recent meeting.

In a lengthy session, the board passed a budget of $4,176,737.

The positions of district art consultant, district librarian, and the vice-principals at the K-6 schools were eliminated.

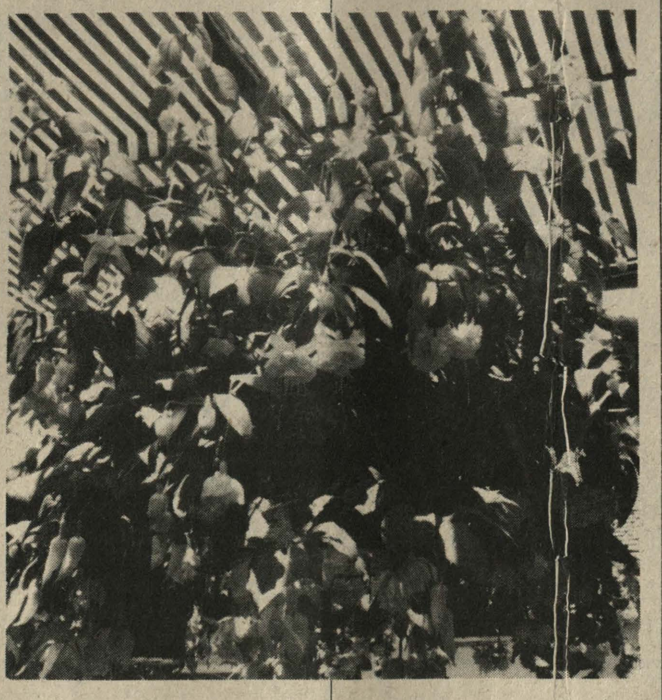
Some 26 employees were hit in the pocketbook when the bonus for military pay was severed.

Because of budgetary problems, the sixth grade Spanish program was eliminated.

The next meeting of the board will be held at the Bohnett School on Friday, July 14, at 8 p.m.

Andy's garden flowers with fuchsias

PROUD OWNER---Andy Cracolice stands by one of his "standard" fuchsias. Andy has been raising fuchsias for three years.



FUCHSIA BASKET---One of Andy's 175 hanging baskets of fuchsias. He has 150 different varieties of the plant in his backyard garden.

Flower fans will want to look at Andy Cracolice's 150 varieties of fuchsias at his 1088 East Campbell Ave. residence.

Andy spends four hours a day with his 175 hanging baskets, 40 bushes and 30 standards in the backyard of his Campbell home.

He is full of hints for the fuchsia enthusiast. The best fertilizer for the plants, he says, is a 23-19-17 combination: 23% nitrogen, 19% phosphate and 17% potash.

When they are not growing fast enough, however, he gives the dirt a higher nitrogen content fertilizer, about 30-10-10. That type of fertilizer is not good to use regularly, he explains, because "the fuchsias have a tendency to get woody."

The fuchsia is a flower that requires hours of human attention to grow to its full beauty. Andy describes the process that he uses:

"I take the cutting and put it in a two inch band (a small pot of perlite sponge, rock and sand). With luck, in about six weeks it should be rooted. The roots should be coming out of the bottom."

He then moves the cutting to a four inch pot. "If I want to make a basket out of it, I take the tip off. If I want a standard, I let it grow." The tip is at a point between the leaves. By continually taking out the tips, the plant will grow out instead of up. If the tip is not taken off, the fuchsia will grow into a small tree.

About eight weeks later he moves the plant into a gallon can, and when it grows to 12 or 16 inches tall he will put it in a tub.

Andy has been raising fuchsias as a hobby for the last three years. He will sell them at a price he says is "cheaper than the nurseries."

He waters his plants once a day and fertilizes them once a week. In the evening, he "fogs them down," spreading a misty water over the leaves. "At night," he says, "they'll absorb more water through the leaves than through the roots."

The plants need sunlight, but cannot take much of the direct sun. For this reason Andy has built a wooden lattice above his garden.

Fuchsias, he says, are the flowers of the real flower lovers. When cared for, they have a long life span. "I've talked to people who have had them last for 20 years," he says.

People interested in learning more about fuchsias can attend meetings of the local Fuchsia Society, which meets at the River Glen School on the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m.

Six transit alternatives are proposed for County

The County Transportation Policy Committee (TPC) has proposed six alternative transit concepts.

TPC said that the concepts were presented to encourage public discussion. Detailed procedures, they announced, will be developed only after the public and professionals have decided which of the alternatives is the most desirable.

The six alternatives are:

1. Limited bus system---Under this plan, the County transportation system of tomorrow would be an extension of what exists today. TPC believes that public transit under this system would still be inadequate and time-consuming. Many major destinations, they warn, would be difficult to reach by bus.

2. Expanded bus system---This alternative would provide bus service to about 70% of the County's urban areas. Although this system would be flexible and easily implemented, TPC has cautioned that it would not relieve much of the total congestion.

3. High speed regional transit with an expanded bus feeder system---The third proposal, which would require the most change in existing policies of land use and development, is similar to BART. The system would include 32 miles of two-way track, with 16 stations at major activity centers. Feeder buses could increase the area directly served. Electrically-powered trains would run up to 50 mph.

4. Intra-County automated rapid transit system---Under this proposal, 125 miles of two-way track with 200 station stops would provide service to much of the urban area. This system would provide convenience but not high speed. Trains would average 30 mph between stops.

5. Regional and intra-County rapid transit system---This would provide rail transit within the County, and would connect with BART in San Mateo County and Alameda County. Two sets of facilities would have to be constructed, a regional trunk line and several intra-County loops. This would provide a large choice of destinations.

6. Intra-County horizontal elevator grid system---A 600 mile system would be built to cover most of the county's urban area. The system would consist of small (12 to 20 person) electric cars running on elevated guideways and stopping to pick up riders only on demand. Passengers would select their destinations with elevator-like buttons and travel directly to those locations. This system could emphasize local needs and make accessible a very large number bilities for those who use the system.

Each of these six systems will require a different level of commitment by County taxpayers. If either a limited or expanded bus system were chosen, the chief direct expense would be to expand the required street and highway network. TPC estimates that to accommodate the increased number of cars would cost an estimated $500 million under either bus plan.

Of the automated systems, costs per system mile are highest for the regional rapid transit system ($11-17 million per mile), but the total costs would be highest for the Horizontal Elevator Grid System ($1.8–$3.0 billion).

Russ Conn is rich in memories

Russ Conn remembers days of Vaudeville and nickelodians and Douglas Fairbanks. He has starred as a black-face comic and sailed through the air on the circus trapeze. He has created sets for Cinderella and Miss California.

All in all, says the 81-year-old Campbell resident, "It's been a good life."

Conn has lived the show business life that most people can only dream about.

He's the kid who ran away from home in sixth grade to join the Barnum and Bailey circus.

He's the young man who put in army time during World War I and then went to Hollywood to break into motion pictures.

In 1924 he quit the movies to dedicate his time to theaters and set designs.

In 1945, he came to Santa Clara County with "Amy's Irish Revue." The revue left. Conn, then 55 years old, decided to quit the show and remain in the area.

Since then, he has designed sets for the Miss California pageant and for numerous local productions.

His fondest memories seem to be with his circus days, which started near his home in Van Wert, Ohio. "I'm the original dropout," he says. "This farmer had given the local kids a field in which to build a circus. When Barnum and Bailey came to town, I ran away from home and went with them."

But he only stayed with Barnum and Bailey for one year. "I was part of an act - The Ferris Family - and I looked enough like the kids that I could pass to be one of the family. But I started to get the big head, and thought I could do better without them."

He spent many of his early years under the big top. His favorite circus was "Adam Fetzer's Railroad Shows," a small troupe with seven wagons and 14 horses.

Pilar the elephant, he says, ran the show: "That elephant, he always knew what was going on."

Years later, when he was discharged from the army, he went to Hollywood on the advice of a friend. In time, he found that he had skills as a clay modeler, and went into set design so that he'd "always have a job."

Today, Russ Conn lives in Campbell with his wife, a former dancer he married in 1932.

His stage days are still alive. Each afternoon, he and his wife put together sets in their backyard. There is always a lot of repairing to do. "A lot of people are pretty rough on these sets," he says.

But he enjoys his busy backyard afternoons, hammering away so that local stage productions can be a bit more polished.

He has created sets for schools in the Campbell district, Los Gatos, Bellarmine, and various community groups who come to him for help.

His yard is covered with bits and pieces of sets. A golden coach for Cinderella. A crucifix for a Holy Days play. Pillars he has used time and time again.

His toolshop houses a miniature circus he is building for his granddaughters, an exact replica of an old-time Ringling circus will cover his moderate-sized backyard.

But all that's left of his circus days are some pains and some memories. "All flyers get these pains eventually," he explains, as he slowly moves ahead.

All that's left of the movie days are some old pictures in a shed in back.

But maybe that is enough, for as Alexander Smith said, "A man's real possession is his memory. In nothing else is he rich, in nothing else is he poor."

MEMORIES---Russ Conn today in his backyard shed full of movie memories.

COMIC --- Russ Conn as a comic in his earlier days.

Emergencies in the water

A swimmer needs emergency assistance...how would you react?

Don't panic - help may be as close as your car trunk. Your car's inflated spare tire will easily provide the support needed to keep a person afloat.

The endangered person may then propel himself to shore by "kicking" his feet or hanging on until help arrives.

A spare tire of small diameter will not be as bouyant as a large one and...regardless of size, the tire should be inflated within a few pounds of the pressure recommended by the manufacturer.

Never use the spare as a beach toy - it is heavy and rough and may cause injury.

Never throw or pitch the tire from any height at a person in the water - it might knock him unconscious or severely injure him.

If you can't swim, move the tire to the endangered person by using a stick, pole or oar.

Never consider this device as a substitute for knowing how to swim or knowing conventional water rescue methods.

CUHSD offers rec programs

Looking for something to do this summer? Why not try the Campbell Union High School District's recreational programs?

Swimming draws thousands of people to the district pools, which are all open for recreational swimming everyday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Campbell's pool is closed on Saturdays and the Prospect pool is closed on Sundays.

Teen centers will be open from 7—10:30 p.m. at Del Mar and Branham on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and at all other schools on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Campbell High will present an all-student production of "Carousel" in August. Students will put together the whole show—acting, staging, making scenery and costumes, working out choreography for dance numbers, singing, playing in the orchestra, and students will be in charge of advertising. Any student in the district can enroll in the program at Campbell.

A gym program for adults of weight training, basketball, badminton, touch football, volleyball and physical fitness is being offered at Prospect High on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. All gyms remain open mornings and evenings for students and adults interested in recreational games or working on physical fitness.

NEW OFFICER — Carol T. Stapleton has been named banking services officer in Wells Fargo Bank's Campbell office, Robert G. Cowan, assistant vice-president and manager, announced today. Miss Stapleton joined Wells Fargo in 1968 when she was graduated from Avila College, Kansas City, Missouri. She has also served in the bank's San Carlos office. She resides in Cupertino.

Reception held in Campbell

MR. and MRS. JAMES STEVENSON

Patricia Ann Hodos and James Donald Stevenson celebrated their Reno wedding at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents.

The June 25 reception was attended by more than 60 people. Families of both bride and groom were present.

Patricia added a touch of elegance to the traditional wedding ceremonies by carrying her grandmother's Bible.

Both Patricia and James graduated from San Jose State University in December. James is currently a psychiatric technician at the Valley Medical Center.

The couple plan their future home in Washington where the groom will do post-graduate work at the University of Washington in social work. Patricia will attend the University of Puget Sound and will pursue her studies in ceramics.

CLAUDIA GARDNER

Wedding set for August

Wedding bells will ring in August for Claudia Diane Gardner and Mark R. Valentine.

The marriage was announced in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boyajian of 1639 Duvall Drive.

Claudia is an art major at Whittier College. She is a Prospect High graduate from the class of 1969, but spent her first three high school years at Campbell High.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Valentine of Covina, California. He received his BA in geology from UC Riverside, and is now attending graduate school at UC Santa Barbara.

Bethel 174 has installation

"Blessings From Heaven" was the theme for the 50th installation of officers and choir of Bethel 174, Campbell I.O.J.D., held recently at Sunnyvale Masonic Temple.

Miss Cherie Stephenson was installed Honored Queen. To carry out the chosen theme each girl installed carried a net parasol in the colors of pink and purple. The reception room and guest book table were also decorated with parasols.

Tori Bruner was installed Senior Princess; Cathy Gipson, Junior Princess; Vicki Clothier, Guide; and Debbie Horton, Marshal.

Appointive officers installed for the ensuing term were: Sandy Reuwsaat, chaplain; Donna Probert, treasurer; Sylvia Miller, recorder; Laurie Silver, musician; Gail Shankland, librarian; Janet Verbrugge, first messenger; Candi Clothier, second messenger; Meredith Morgan, third messenger; Becky Lawson, fourth messenger; Terri Roberts, fifth messenger; Julie Kongshoy, senior custodian; Christy Zeek, junior custodian; Nancy Gaddis, inner guard; Inelea Magniez, outer guard.

Installed in the Bethel Choir were: Sharon Abbott, Zoe Ann Alleman, Dawn Beardsley, Carri Biersdorff, Betsy Blackman, Cindy Blackman, Barbara Brown, Jenny Cansler, Debbie Guffey, Jeri Harkleroad, Denise Holmes, Gail Jennings, Marilyn Jensen, Lisa Johnson, Laurie Leib, Cyndi Mietz, Davette Myers, Lori Myers, Pam Parton, Jan Patton, Stephanie Rogers, Kim Stromner, Cindy Vargas and Ricki White.

Mrs. Paul Cocking served as soloist for the evening singing "Count Your Blessings" and "Blessings From Heaven". Cheryl Payne and Sherie Odem of Campbell Rainbow Assembly were in charge of the guest book.

As a surprise for Honored Queen Cherie, a special vocal selection was presented by a group of singers from the Bethel. Following the ceremony a vocal duet was offered by Jeanette Johnson and Karen Doss. A reception and dance were then enjoyed with music provided by "Public Service".

INSTALLATION — Recently installed as officers of Bethel 174 are Tori Bruner, Senior Princess; Cherie Stephenson, Honored Queen; and Cathy Gibson, Junior Princess.

Morgans celebrate

Dr. and Mrs. Wyland (Evelyn) Morgan, long active in the Campbell community, were honored at a formal reception at Los Gatos Lodge to mark their 40th wedding anniversary recently.

The Morgans were married in Fresno in June of 1932.

They have one son, Gene R. Morgan, an educator, who is CTA representative in Kern County. The younger Morgans and their daughter, Mary Jean, make their home in Bakersfield.

Active in civic life, Dr. Morgan was recently honored for his 50-year membership in the Masonic Lodge. He is past president of Kiwanis and served as Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis for the state of California.

Recently he was cited as Campbell's longest practicing professional. He previously served as president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and has been active in school and other community affairs.

Mrs. Morgan has been equally active in public life in Campbell including the Country Woman's Club, Federated Woman's Clubs of California, PTA, and the Congregational Church in Campbell.

She was chairman of the Campbell Youth Guidance Council from its inception and served 10 years helping the police work with first-time offenders.

During the evening reception attended by 150 invited guests, Assemblyman Richard Hayden presented the Morgans with a gold plated rivet which was used in the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. He stated that the Morgans' marriage coincided with the construction of this landmark and was equally durable. He also presented them with a California Bear Flag which had flown over the capitol.

Three of the bridesmaids were present for the anniversary party--Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Francis Blasingame Goree and Mrs. John Noone.

A clear, sunny day, the guests could see all the way to San Francisco as they gathered around the champagne fountain on the lawn for a toast followed by breakfast in the sunroom. The tables were covered with red and white checked tablecloths and ivy pots topped with large white daisies serving as centerpieces. Bouquets of ruby red roses, potted chrysanthemums and white orchids presented by friends filled the rooms.

Among the guests were their close neighbors, the Chester Roots. Mrs. Root was Mrs. Morgan's classmate at Fresno High School.

Attending the anniversary reunion from out of town were former classmates and friends; Dr. and Mrs. Edward Tunney, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Noone, Mrs. Francis Blasingame Goree and Mr. Leonard Petersen of Fresno, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buckhart of Walnut Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Sutherland of Stockton.

FAMILY CELEBRATION --- The fortieth wedding anniversary for Dr. and Mrs. Wyland Morgan was cause for celebration by the whole family. The Morgans cut a commemorative cake at a reception in their honor, as their son, Gene Morgan, far right, and his wife and daughter, Mary Jean watch.

VIOLET SOCIETY

The African Violet Society of South Bay will hold its regular meeting July 18, 1972 at 1:00 p.m. in the Northern California Savings Community Room at 10250 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road, Cupertino.

The program is open to the public.

WETLANDS

In 1906, there were 3.42 million acres of wetlands in California; today there are less than 500,000 acres of which about 175,000 acres are privately owned duck clubs.

Pony League finishes regular season

All-Stars await local playoffs

On Monday, July 17, Campbell-Moreland Pony League will host the Area 5 All Star Tournament at their Rincon Park Field.

Teams will compete from San Francisco, Saratoga, San Jose Westside and the host Campbell team.

Saratoga and Westside will meet on Monday, July 17, at 5:30 p.m. with Campbell meeting San Francisco on Tuesday, July 18 at 5:30.

Games will continue in the double elimination tournament on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The championship game is scheduled for 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 22.

Admission for the tourney will be $1.00 for adults, 50¢ for kids 14 and under, and children six years and under will be admitted free. A "family plan" ticket will be available for $5.00 which admits any and all family members to all games.

HOME PLATE --- Bill Truan scores against the Food Fair Mets helping Yankees to win a 10-5 victory to remain in the running for the league title.

Yankees win championship

The Yankees fought their way out of the losers bracket to win three in a row and take the 1972 Campbell-Moreland Pony League Championship.

The Yanks started on their road to the title by defeating the Campbell Marine A's on July 4 by a score of 2-0.

But on Thursday, July 6, they were thrown into the losers bracket of the double elimination tournament by losing to the Fontanetti Cards 4-3.

The Yanks then defeated the Mets 10-5 on Friday, July 7 to remain in the running, On Saturday, July 8, they took two from the Cards.

Miley Falke pitched his tenth victory of the season in the 3-2 opener of the doubleheader. The margin of victory was a home plate steal by Hank Rowland in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The Yanks had the momentum going for them and rolled over the Cards in the second and deciding game by the score of 12-4. Rick Roth went the distance to cinch the victory.

The Yanks will now represent their League in the Annual Tournament of Champions during the week of July 31.

Sirens will sound for test

A test of outdoor warning equipment will be conducted Friday, July 28, at 11:00 a.m. by Santa Clara County Emergency Services.

The sirens will begin with a one minute steady blast followed by one minute of silence and then conclude with one minute of the wailing siren.

The quarterly test is part of the continuing effort by emergency services units of the County to keep their equipment in readiness in the event of a major disaster.

The sirens, in event of an actual emergency situation, would be sounded for three to five minutes. The steady blast denoting an alert and the wailing siren or series of short blasts would signify an attack warning.

TOURNAMENT STARTS

The first All-Star tournament game in Little League play will be held July 19, with Campbell Little League hosting a game at their field on July 25.

Campbell's All-Star team will play their first game July 21 at the Moreland Little League Field. The tournament is a one-game elimination contest.

FILMS

The Peninsula Adult-Youth Film Council continues its summer program of G rated films today at the PruneYard Theaters with a 1:30 showing of "Five Weeks in a Balloon."

Movies in future weeks will include "The Reluctant Astronaut," "Support Your Local Sheriff," "Island of Blue Dolphins," "Hey There, Yogi Bear."

Schools offer recreation

For the next few weeks, 17 schools in the Campbell Union School District will have playgrounds open daily as part of the district's summer recreation program.

Each day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. youngsters may participate in organized sports, games, library, crafts and once each week, enjoy a film.

Ice cream is sold daily and the youngsters enjoy macrame yarn painting, decoupage, stick craft, crepe paper flowers, papier mache' and other crafts. Each Friday there are special events at the schools to culminate the week's theme.

Two or more recreation leaders work at each playground, many of whom are teachers from within the school district.

Also available through the recreation department are gymnastics at Rolling Hills School, industrial arts at Monroe and Blackford schools, and instrumental music at Campbell School.

For information about any of these programs, contact Mrs. Melva Miller at the school district office.

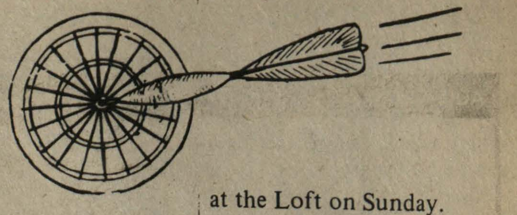
DARTING AROUND



The big picnic and election of the Northern California Darts Assn. will take place this Saturday at Redwood Regional Park in the East Oakland Hills.

The three candidates for the office of president are the incumbent, Tom Lawrence, Russ Carleton, treasurer, and South Bay League Governor, Ted Allen.

All three candidates for vice-president are from the South Bay Area. Rick Miller, former VP and League Governor plays for Banbury Clock I, out-going Competition Secretary, Tom Carroll plays for the Black Watch in Los Gatos and Terry Elliott shoots for the Winchester St. Congregation I.

The offices of treasurer and competition secretary have only one candidate each, Brian Dudley and Mike Lanin, respectively.

Southern California Darts Association had their election last month. This saw the defeat of Capt. Blob (Dick Mitruen) by the former secretary, Tom Fleetwood. The SCDA board still holds the weight of west coast darts between Tom and the new secretary Bill Belasco. I won't say that they are both heavy but don't let them sit on the same side of the room. Tilt!!

ALL-STAR MATCH

After taking the last two All-Star matches the SCDA succumbed to an 18—7 defeat at the hands of the NCDA team. It was obvious that the SCDA team was in trouble when they only won three of ten singles games. This also carried through when they were only able to take two of the five doubles games. At this point the score was 13—7. The best the SCDA could hope to do was lose 13—12. Nor-Cal took the team game, so the final score was 18—7.

In the ladies match Nor-Cal's Karen White defeated SCDA's LaDonna Hemple although LaDonna shot a high score of 121. This was the high score of the afternoon until the team game when Phil Albers popped a 137 and Craig Dusenberry hit another 121.

The shortest game of the night was Gary Curtaz' defeat of SCDA's Dave Cannon in the singles competition, 14 darts was all it took.

The day after the All-Star match saw many of the SCDA darters shooting in the Oakland area at the Loft and the English Pub. SCDA's John Sutton won the money shoot at the Loft on Sunday.

Dog fanciers give show for furry friends

The dog with the longest tail may yet have his day.

San Jose Recreation Department is sponsoring a "Dog Day" this Saturday at Kelley Park (adjacent to Happy Hollow) beginning at 10 a.m.

Included in the activities are awards for the dog with the longest tail, furriest, shortest legs, longest legs, best costumed and saddest face.

Also on the day's calendar is a purebred dog match, which is open to more than 100 breeds of registered purebred dogs.

Charge for entering the show is 50-cents for non-purebreds and $1 for purebreds. Entries will be taken on the grounds from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m.

Proceeds from the event will go to Happy Hollow, the children's playground next to Kelley Park.

Local judges include Brenda Fenolio of Dolphin Pet Center, Rick Preston of Olympian Kennels and Sally Howe of the Campbell Press.

Purebred dogs must be over three months of age. Classes will be divided into puppy and adult divisions with group judging in the afternoon.

The match is co-sponsored by the San Jose Recreation Department and Dog Fanciers of the Bay Area.

PICNIC

An all-school picnic provided end-of-the-year entertainment for students, teachers and parents of Farnham Elementary School.

The Ballet Folklorico Alegria from Matheson Junior High School performed at the picnic as did the Penda Dancers, featuring African music and dances.

Campbell Artist's Guild

by Ruth Earl

Campbell Artist's Guild and guests, enjoyed a profitable evening June 22, at Grace United Methodist Church, Saratoga, Marshall Merritt, guest artist, presented one of his excellent demonstrations in oil painting.

At this meeting Bonnie Shofner was awarded the Guild's Artist of the month ribbon, for a beautiful still life of red cherries and a milk glass vase, on black velvet. Bonnie has gained wide recognition for her velvet painting, a self-taught technique.

Although, born in Oregon, Bonnie has lived most of her life in California. She began her career as an artist in Lodi, through a correspondance course, and later, studied oil painting under Mrs. Hill, Judy Howland, Marshall Merritt, and Eloise Bond, in the San Jose Area.

She has exhibited in Saratoga, Santa Cruz and in various local art shows and won many awards. She currently has one man show exhibits at Crocker Citizens Bank, San Carlos Branch, S.J., Florentines, in Cupertino and Mt. View, and local residents are invited to see these exhibits through the month of July.

Besides being an active member of Campbell Artist's Guild, Bonnie is a member of Peninsula Regional Art Council and holds Saturday and Tuesday art classes in her home studio.

CAMPBELL
LITTLE LEAGUE

SECOND HALF CHAMPS--- Cefalu Mobil didn't win the playoffs, but still was second half champions in the Campbell Little League Farm Division. Left to right, top, Don Nadell, manager; Mark Womack, John Aimonetti, David Wallace and Frank Melrose, coach. Second row, Chris Flint, Erick Stockstill, Anthony Janes, Greg Scoppetone, and Thomas Kais. Bottom row, left to right, Ronald Bravo, Jeff Nelson, Andy Mausser and Doug Kahn. Not pictured are Ricky Steven and Richard Rose.

In the last 10 years, deaths from farm accidents have increased 14 per cent with machinery, drowning and firearms the leading causes.

HOSPITALIZED

Chris Ray, 12-year-old third baseman for Campbell Little League's Doetsch Building team, suffered a fall from a bicycle while playing at a nearby school last week and is recuperating at Campbell Community Hospital.

According to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ray, 75 Colleen Way, Chris is somewhat lonesome and would enjoy visitors, cards and calls from his friends. Schoolmates and fellow baseball players are asked to check with his home to see if he has been released or is still confined to the hospital.

DISTRICT 44

Campbell Moose Lodge, winners of the Campbell Little League's majors championship will meet the other major team winners in District 44 later this month. The tournament, like the All-Stars is a one game elimination until the final two teams meet.

INDIAN'S LAW

In 1825, the western portion of this continent was regarded as permanent Indian territory and whites were not allowed by law west of the Arkansas and Missouri Rivers.

Little League

Three Little League championships were decided in play-off games last week at their field at Rosemary School.

Shepardson Realty was overall winner of the Farm Division, winning a playoff with second half winner Cefalu Mobil by scores of 16-2 and 6-3.

Minor American League champions were Campbell Optimist, who beat first half champions Rotary for the title. The first game of the playoff was won 10-0 with a no hitter and only five walks by pitcher Frank Scrivano. The second game was won 13-7.

First and Alma Gulf triumphed in two straight games to beat second half winners Willow Glen Optimist. The games were close, with the first going into an overtime inning which saw F&A emerge victorious 7-6. The second game was tied going into the sixth inning when F&A scored, making the final 6-5.

CUHSD presents "Carousel"

"Carousel" will be presented by Campbell Union High School District students on July 26 through 29 at 8 p.m.

Under the direction of John Hall, drama teacher, and William Perkins, musical director, 220 students have worked since June 1 on the musical production.

In operation since 1966, this program offers any student enrolled in the district the opportunity to meet and work with people outside their own high school while studying such facets of the theater as acting, staging, making scenery and costumes, working out choreography for dance numbers, singing, playing in the orchestra, studying music theory, performing in the band, drawing programs, advertising the show and selling tickets.

"Carousel," a musical by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, is often regarded to be one of the great plays of the American theater. While a vein of joyfulness runs through the play, it is far from the old fashioned kind of "musical comedy." It inspires both tears and laughter in the audience.

Tickets for the performances held in the Campbell High School auditorium may be purchased at the door.

LEADING LADY---Anne Canfield of Leigh High School stars as Julie in "Carousel."

HUMOR---Cindy McKay of Campbell High and Mike Simpson of Westmont provide comic relief in the CUHSD production of "Carousel."
